FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASEASF Payment Solutions Finalizes My Scheduler for Clients

My Scheduler is intuitive software that streamlines scheduling for fitness clubs

HIGHLANDS RANCH, COLO. – May 7, 2018 – ASF Payment Solutions, a technology company that provides software, complete payment solutions and customer support to the fitness industry, today will start finalizing the client transition to the improved version of My Scheduler, a software that helps gym owners and their members efficiently schedule fitness classes. In addition to a cleaner look, My Scheduler offers new features like room design, class conflict resolution along with improved email notifications and a more robust drag and drop.

“Our main goal with the newest version of My Scheduler is to make scheduling fitness classes more intuitive for both gym owners and members,” said Robert Riches, President, ASF Payment Solutions. “Just like before, users can access the software on any device, but now it’s much cleaner and more user-friendly, making scheduling classes and personal training sessions easier.”

In the first trial iteration of My Scheduler, owners were able to test the functionalities, such as room design features, simpler conflict resolution, and increased simplicity of tracking purchases with usage. In addition to having a basic understanding of how to do all of those tasks, clients will also easily know how to schedule a complex series of events, verify that events have not been double-booked, are in the wrong room or area, and to make sure that trainers are available. Now that users have acclimated to these updates, ASF Payment Solutions will start the conversion process so that each current health club owner has a smooth transition.

“It’s exciting that our clients can now experience the full effects of this robust software,” said Sean Kirby, Vice President of Client Relations, ASF Payment Solutions. “We will be able minimize any transition complications because owners tested the waters with an initial trial run.”
